We would like to publicize your Letter of Kosher Certification and share your product information. Please check off all the options below that you would like to make use of:

- We can list your Letter of Certification (LOC) on our website so that the other kashrus agencies, manufacturers and consumers may verify your kosher status. Listing your Letter of Certification on the internet will help eliminate the need to send copies to your customers. Just direct your clients to our website and they can print it themselves.
- The cRc also offers the opportunity for you to have your company's website link accessible from the cRc website. The cRc website visitor would then be able to view your website at a click of the mouse.
- We would like to include your LOC information in our Universal Kosher Database that would give other supervising kosher agencies your LOC information in a database format. This format makes it easy for all the UKD participating kosher agencies to bring up your product(s) name, code, group, status, etc. Only information that appears on your LOC is included in this data. If you would like your information shared, please select at which security level you would like your information published. Note: generally, if you are allowing us to publish your LOC on our website, select Security Level 1.
 - Security Level 1 – includes all information that is stated on your LOC and is available to the public via the other UKD kosher supervising agencies' websites.
 - Security Level 2 – includes all information that is stated on your LOC but is only available to clients of the other kosher companies participating in the UKD via the other UKD kosher supervising agencies' websites.
 - Security Level 3 – includes all information that is stated on your LOC but is only available to the employees other kosher supervising companies participating in the UKD. Your information would not be published on their websites.
 - Security Level 4 – excludes your company name, product names, and product codes. Anyone looking up products of this level has a hardcopy of the LOC already and is just confirming the expiration date, group number, and DPM (dairy, pareve, or meat status). This level of security is used for those companies not wanting their full list of products available to anyone.
- Finally, if you provide us with a JPG copy of your logo we may use it in our in-house displays, our food show booth displays, and our scrolling display of company logos on our website

All of these services are offered to you at no additional cost or obligation. We only ask that you check off the above boxes for which you would like to participate and then sign this letter and either email or fax it back to me. The JPG logos should be emailed to me.

To view other LOC's and links already on our website go to: www.crcweb.org and then click on the Kosher > Commercial > cRc Letters of Kosher Certification (LOCs).
